

BIOGRAPHY

Ken Prather, President & CEO
Shoppdex.com Corporation
(dba - Teilhard Technologies "Teilhard")

As CEO of Teilhard, Ken coordinated the merging of four software companies under the Teilhard name. Shoppdex.com Corporation (DBA "Teilhard") is the successor of the merged companies which now carry on business in Data Integration and Network Security across a number of vertical markets. Teilhard's premiere product solutions are in the Integration and Security market space and are gaining significant traction with customers in the energy and government markets.

Ken is a serial entrepreneur with diverse business skills acquired in a number of industries. His general business experience, deep people skills and proven tenacity make him the best candidate to fulfill the leadership role at Teilhard.

Teilhard holds Patents in both Canada and the United States in the data integration space and has Patents pending in the Security and Data Harmonization spaces. In addition to his regular duties as CEO Mr. Prather is currently leading the Company's major initiatives in international patent licensing and enforcement and product and solution development with Fortune 100 multi-nationals.
